	,	Since the contract began, we have met with employees 25% and discussed the program with them. We decided that the most difficult obstacle would be toeget the required computer programming support.	X1/
25X1A		This is an internal NPIC problem. Since the meeting, has 25% sent us a program outline and several computer programs which need to be translated, plus instructions on operating procedures for the microdensitometer. is continuing work on documentation for other computer programs and will be setting up a schedule for classes on the use of the microdensitometer.
